VALLEY PROGRAM

FULL OR HALF DAY CUSCO SACRED VALLEY PROGRAM

(Season: from April - December)

These programs feature full day or half day visits to Andean lakes and mountain streams with abundant rainbow trout. We will travel approximately 2 hours from the imperial city of Cusco (1.5 hours from Urubamba) and fish by boat, on foot or both depending on weather conditions.

An unforgettable adventure for anglers of all experience levels and their families!

Fishing conditions may change throughout the season. Peru Anglers will advise as to the best options available at the time of confirming your reservation. Our stream locations depend on water level for good fishing. Best dates for stream fishing are at the beginning and end of the season (April and December).

Itinerary:

Pick up from your accommodations at 7:00 AM and depart for the Sacred Valley of the Incas. We will arrive to our fishing destination around 9:00 AM, assemble our equipment and spend the morning fishing in this stunning environment.

At 12:00 PM we will take a break for lunch and in the afternoon, continue to fish until 2:30 PM. At 3:00 PM, we will depart for Cusco through the wondrous Sacred Valley of the Incas, arriving around 5:00 PM to your accommodations.

Included in program:

- Transfer to-from lake
 - Box lunch, snacks, water and soda
 - Fishing equipment
 - Professional fly fishing guides and local community guides

Packing list:

Depending on the season, the weather is usually very cold in the early morning but warm and often sunny around midday. We recommend layered clothing, rain jacket, sunscreen and insect repellent.

Equipment:

Peru Anglers will provide all necessary fishing and safety equipment, but if you would like to bring your own, we recommend: 5-6 rod, flotation lines, small nymphs, small streamers with F/S tip lines (for deepening flies), leaders and tippets no. 2-4
